

"...opulent, precise and powerful..." - The Washington Post

Thomas Beveridge, Artistic Director
P.O. Box 6691, McLean, VA 22106-6691
703-442-9404 www.newdominion.org

Contact:
Margaret Volpe
703-403-4709
margvolpe@aol.com

Thomas Beveridge
202-244-7191

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

New Dominion Chorale to Present Washington Premiere of Advent Cantata

New Dominion Chorale will perform works by Benjamin Britten and Thomas Beveridge in a program entitled "Welcome, Yule!" on Sunday, December 7, 2014, at 4 p.m. The concert, a blend of old and new Christmas traditions, will take place at the Rachel M. Schlesinger Concert Hall and Arts Center on the Alexandria Campus of Northern Virginia Community College, 4915 East Campus Drive, Alexandria, Virginia.

Mr. Beveridge, the Chorale's founder and artistic director, will conduct the performance that features his own Advent Cantata, "Welcome, Lord!" and "A Ceremony of Carols" by Britten.

New Dominion Chorale will be joined by special guest chorus, the Children's Chorus of Washington, directed by Joan Gregoryk. Vocal soloists, all well known to Washington audiences, will be soprano Laura Strickling, mezzo-soprano Linda Maguire, tenors Issachah Savage and Jason Rylander, and bass David Brundage. The Rev. John Wimberly will be the narrator in "Welcome, Lord!"

Mr. Beveridge's cantata, commissioned by Union Theological Seminary in New York City to commemorate its 150th anniversary, received its premiere in 1986. This will be the second performance, with a new ending. "Welcome, Lord!" is based on the first chapter of the Gospel according to St. Luke, which tells the story of the events leading up to the birth of Jesus: the Annunciation by the angel Gabriel to Elizabeth and Zechariah concerning the birth of their son, John ("the Baptist"), and to Mary, concerning the birth of her son, Jesus. The musical score, which employs an ensemble of solo instruments, includes many familiar chants and carols appropriate for the Advent season, including "O Come Emmanuel," "Come, Holy Spirit," "O Come, All Ye Faithful," and a new setting of Mary's song, "My Soul Magnifies the Lord" (The Magnificat).

The Children's Chorus of Washington has performed frequently with leading musical organizations in Washington, D.C., at venues including the John F. Kennedy Center for the Performing Arts and the Music Center at Strathmore.

Mr. Savage, who performs the role of the angel Gabriel, is one of America's rising young opera singers. He recently made his debut with the Houston Grand Opera as Rhadames in Verdi's "Aida." Next season he will make his Metropolitan Opera debut as Don Riccardo in Verdi's "Ernani," conducted by James Levine.

Ms. Strickling has won numerous awards and competitions in the United States and has been praised in The New York Times for her "flexible voice, crystalline diction and warm presence." She will sing the role of Mary in "Welcome, Lord!"

New Dominion Chorale, now in its 24th year, is the Washington area's largest chorus, with 225 singing members. The Chorale has been praised by Washington Post critics for singing with "power, but with delicacy and grace," and has been singled out for its unique organizational structure as a "singers' cooperative." In addition to regular performances at the Schlesinger Center, the Chorale has also appeared at Washington National Cathedral, the George Mason University Center for the Arts, and the Concert Hall of the Kennedy Center.

Mr. Beveridge is considered one of Washington's most versatile musicians: singer, instrumentalist, composer, arranger, and conductor. The composer of over 650 works in all media, he was the recipient of the first "Wammie" award given to a composer by the Washington Area Music Association. Washingtonian magazine has called him "The Dean of Washington Composers."

Tickets for "Welcome, Yule!" are available online through the Chorale's website (www.newdominion.org) or at the door on the day of the performance. General admission tickets are $30, $25 (seniors), $5 (students and children), and $20 for individuals in groups of 10 or more. For more information, visit www.newdominion.org or call 703-442-9404.

New Dominion Chorale is supported in part by grants from the National Endowment for the Arts and the Virginia Commission for the Arts.

###